Call for Research Scholarships 2019

The thematic network „Remapping the Global South“ funded by the German Academic Exchange Service herewith advertises 4 research scholarships for the year 2019 at one of our partner universities respectively: UNSAM (Buenos Aires), SYSU (Guangzhou), UWC (Cape Town) and JNU (New Delhi).
The scholarship is directed to Master Students enrolled with the University of Cologne.
The funding period is 2 months and includes a travel allowance (lump sum) as well as a monthly stipend of around 900,00 €.

The funded research projects should be assigned to one of the five thematic research areas of the network and be conducted at one of the associated partner universities:

1) Governance of rapid urbanization from a global perspective
2) Migration and translocal relations
3) Natural and cultural heritage as new commons
4) Social movements and struggles for participation
5) Global value chains and transnational corporations

More information on the thematic research areas as well as the respective contact person for content-related questions can be found on:
